Body is found in Romulus

A woman's body discovered in Romulus early Friday morning has been identified as a 27-year-old Inkster resident.

Police officials said Tuesday the former Romulus resident died of strangulation. They are considering several suspects in connection with her death.

The victim's body was first discovered at approximately 3 a.m., Friday near Venoy Road and Ecorse. Police were unable to identify the body or cause of death until an investigation was completed by the Wayne County Morgue. Also assisting were officials from the Detroit Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Anyone with information regarding this case is urged to contact the Romulus Police Department at 941-8400.

Resident is charged in rape of baby

A 17-year-old Romulus teen was charged Sunday in the sexual assault of a 15-month-old girl.

Marcel Mario Dixon was arraigned in an out-county court before Judge Carolyn Archbold. He has been charged with first degree sexual conduct, a charge that could result in a life sentence in prison.

Bond for the defendant was set at $100,000 cash, and he awaits a Nov. 8 preliminary examination from Wayne County jail.

An investigation began Oct. 25 when the victim's 18-year-old mother asked the defendant to care for her child while she was at work.

The mother told police officials she left for work at 3 p.m. and returned at approximately 11 p.m. The following morning, the mother noticed her baby was severely injured while changing the infant's diaper.

Civic league receives a $7,500 grant for park

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Civic League was among 43 community organizations to be the first recipients of Neighborhood Builders Alliance mini-grants from state officials last month.

Awards totalled $340,000 and ranged from $1,000 to $10,000 for 43 community improvements in 21 counties statewide.

The Romulus Civic League, which formed nearly 30 years ago to offer positive activities for neighborhood youth, will receive $7,500 for a neighborhood park-rehabilitation project. League members plan to develop land near an existing club recreation facility, on Wahrman Road.

Ultimately, the new park area will contain a playground, basketball courts, picnic tables and barbecue grills, according to Willie Hester, Civic League president.

During the fall, Hester said, members will clear the four lots to prepare for development.

"As soon as it's spring, we anticipate ordering equipment and getting started. We hope to have the park completed by June," Hester said.

League members were informed of the award last month, Hester said. He traveled to Lansing to learn about details and guidelines for using the funds.

The Neighborhood Builders Alliance is designed to forge partnerships between the state and community organizations. The funds may be used to improve neighborhoods, state officials said.

The mini-grant program was formed to fund small or new projects that could not compete for larger grants.

"Many of these groups have the potential to become moving forces in the improvement of their communities," said Governor James Blanchard.

"These mini-grants are our way of telling them that we believe in the work they are doing."

As Civic League members prepare to utilize their grant, they need the help of local volunteers, Hester said. The most imminent project is the removal of trees and brush from the development site.

Those people interested in volunteering time are urged to call Hester at 941-7468.

Newspaper wins top award

For the second consecutive year, The Westland Eagle has been honored by the University Press Club of Michigan with the prestigious Excellence in Journalism Award. This is the third time the publication has been selected by judges as the best weekly newspaper in the 10,000 to 15,000 circulation category.

This award follows the presentation last month of both first and second place awards for the best editorial page to Associated Newspapers from The Michigan Press Association. The publications were also awarded an honorable mention for the sports coverage and two awards for outstanding achievements in advertising design and layout. Associated Newspapers publishes The Westland Eagle, The Wayne Eagle, The Canton Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise, The Romulus Ro- man and The Inkster Ledger Star.

Judges in the University Press Club competition lauded the strong overall product of each of the Associated entries. Comments from the judges included praise for the community calendar and the "good, tight staff photos." Judges also noted the excellent editorial page and the "good treatment of social news."

Judges did not choose second or third place winners in this category, according to a press club official, due to the clearly outstanding quality of the Associated entries. In 1986, the judges chose to honor all of the weekly papers by presenting the award to the group as first, second and third place winners were each published by Associated and "these entries are so close in excellence, it is difficult to choose a winner."

"These really are the finest weekly newspapers in the state," commented Associated Newspapers Publisher Susan Willett. "We owe that to our staff and to our community. That may sound strange, but this community has made our newspapers the finest in the state by demanding excellence from us."

"We listen to our readers and subscribers and try to provide what they want in their local paper. Obviously, they know what they're talking about," Willett said.

"We certainly aren't going to rest on our laurels here. We're going to use these awards as an impetus toward even better, more responsive journalism and more creative and influential advertising."

Contract is approved for Wick project

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Taking the next step necessary to facilitate the extensive proposed Metro World Centre development, Romulus officials Monday night selected a contractor to complete preliminary Wick Road improvements.

Members of the Romulus Tax Increment Finance Authority approved a $1.5 million contract with Dan's Excavating to pave a section of Wick Road from Wickham west to Lisa and install necessary utilities along the way. Wick will also be extended as a two-lane road approximately 8,000 feet. Original estimates for these improvements came to $2.1 million.

This project is considered part of Phase I in the Wick Road improvement project approved by the TIFA board and city council earlier this year. City officials also approved an $8 million bond issue to fund these projects. In a TIFA area, revenue generated by new development is "captured" to refund the original investment.

When city officials agreed to the Wick project, they hoped to pave the way for the proposed Metro World Centre development. This multi-use development would consist of conference centers, office buildings, apartment complexes and a college facility. The site is bounded by Wick Road, Merriam, Venoy and Smith. Developer Llwyd Eccelstone last year wrote city officials a letter promising to commit $66 million to the project.

Dennis Oakes, Romulus director of community development, told TIFA members Monday that the 8,000-foot extension of Wick road will take it between two small lakes on the development site. It is hoped to facilitate the construction of the first buildings for the development.

The paving project is expected to be completed by the end of 1990.

Local woman will march at Capitol

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Several area residents - including a Romulus woman - will visit Washington, D.C., Nov. 12 to rally for women's abortion rights.

Romulus resident Catalina Hall is organizing transportation to the march. At least four buses, she said, from the Detroit area will be used.

During a similar march staged in April, 3,000 people from the Detroit area attended, Hall said.

"I believe we'll send 3,000 this time, too," she explained.

Hall described the event as "a mobilization to save women's lives and encourage lawmakers to maintain the legality of abortion." Making abortion illegal, Hall said, is a way of enslaving women.

"Those are basic rights - when to have a pregnancy and when to abort it," Hall said.

"We're also very concerned about the parental-consent bill."

The proposed Michigan parental-consent bill, if approved, would require minors to obtain permission from a parent before having an abortion. The bill has been approved by members of both the state House of Representatives and Senate.

Gov. James Blanchard has yet to sign the bill into law.

Requiring consent forces young women to admit to their parents that they are having sexual relations but leaves teenage boys "in the clear," Hall said.

"We're letting the young males in this country off with no responsibility whatsoever," Hall explained.

If passed, the consent law would be ineffective, Hall said.

They did not sing camp songs or go canoeing, but the students who attended leadership camp last week have special memories of their experience.

The camp is an annual event staged through Romulus Senior High School. Participants are usually members of student government or school leadership classes. This year, a record number of students attended - 150 people.

Participants left Oct. 15 and returned Oct. 17. Camp was staged at the Bluewater Campgrounds near Lexington, Mich.

Several of the students who attended discussed the experience - Stacie Brown, a junior; Crystal Thompson, a senior; Angela Sammons, (student council parliamentarian) a senior; Amy Anderson (student council president) a senior and Dan Taylor, a senior.

Basically, Brown said, camp was staged to allow students to form goals for their school and discover ways to promote positive attitudes. To accomplish this, meetings were divided into five main subjects - self concept, positive peer interaction, substance abuse awareness, conflict resolution techniques and leadership skills. In addition to working with teachers and administrators, students met with Officer John Smagner of the Romulus Police Department and Councilman Noah Bergeron.

During the self concept discussion, students were told to speak with positive words.

"To cut out what they call 'killer statements,'" Brown said.

When discussing positive peer interaction, the students watched a film about second-graders. The children in the film were asked what they thought discrimination is. They were put into two groups, brown eyes and blue eyes.

"That was a good movie,"

Thompson said.

Smagner, who coordinates a drug education program in the district, addressed the students next. He called on the students to act as positive role models for local children.

In the conflict resolution discussion, participants were grouped together to work out real problems. Sometimes, instead of finding solutions, the students learned to live with the problems, Taylor said.

The final discussion involved leadership. Students were asked to list qualities of a good leader. Brown suggested an open mind and the ability to communicate.

"A leader can state their opinion, but should not force it," Sammons said.

"A leader should follow through," Anderson added.

If someone in a leadership position makes a promise or offers help, that person should keep his word, she explained.

As a result of their discussions, the students decided the school needs a new motto and new traditions, all geared to increase spirit.

Possible mottos are, "Romulus high school, making our best even better." Another possibility is, "Learn and grow in Romulus high school and let your spirit and colors fly."

For traditions, students suggested adopting a spirit rock, staging bonfire pep rallies and making a senior time capsule.

The entire student body will vote on these changes.

These ideas are not the students' only hopes for improving spirit. They plan to encourage people to attend more sporting events with publicity and assemblies and to encourage teacher input.

Home market remains strong

By DANIEL CALABRESE
ANP Staff Writer

Local real-estate agents believe in a positive report issued last week about the state of the local home-sales market.

Two agents echoed the sentiments of Eric Hunt — of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors — who said that the current state of the market is favorable for buyers.

"While listings throughout our area are still 7 percent above last year, they took a decided drop in September and were down 20 percent from a month earlier," Hunt said. "The combination of lower prices and fewer homes available should be encouraging signs for the market during the remainder of the year."

Robert Olson, who manages a Realty World office in Canton Township, agreed with Hunt's findings.

"I just have a good feeling. With the way the market is going, we're up from last year," Olson said.

Sales in October have been strong, Olson said. Interest rates have remained low, at approximately 9.5 percent on 15-year mortgages, 10 percent on 30-year loans.

Willie Williams, an agent for Earl Keim Realty, in Inkster, believes the market should remain buyer-oriented for a brief period but will eventually "taper off."

"(Sellers') listing expires," Williams said. "They're not going to re-list until probably next year. The auto industry is not doing too well, and that affects the home market."

Williams agreed, however, that the current market is a buyers' market, because plenty of homes are available.

In Inkster, Williams said, buyers will find the lowest prices in all of western Wayne County.

"Other than in the city of Detroit, I would say the prices are lower in Inkster than anywhere else in the area," Williams said.

The median Detroit area home price in September was $80,500, Hunt said. That brings the year-to-date median to $77,000, which is 6.9 percent higher than the median price of $72,000 in September 1988.

Lending institutions have been competing strongly this year, Hunt said, which benefits potential home lenders by resulting in lower interest rates.

Those people who want to buy homes should consider buying now because of possible future trends, Hunt said.

"Many will be surprised at what they can still get in today's market," Hunt explained. "We think prices here will continue to rise faster than the national rate. So building up of equity over the next few years will help these buyers move up the housing ladder at a later time."

Motorists driving through Westland will no longer have to deal with traffic snarls due to construction along Newburgh Road and Warren Road. Crew cleared away the last of the construction equipment Friday allowing easy access to stores in the area. With M-CARE, the sky is not the limit.

There's a serious accident. Time is crucial. A helicopter is dispatched to speed the victim to the University of Michigan Burn Center... a service you, hopefully, will never have to call on. But it's there if you need it, and much, much more through M-CARE.

M-CARE is the only HMO that links all the resources of the U of M Medical Center to the personal care of your family doctor and your nearby hospital. M-CARE covers you for office visits, checkups, hospitalization—even emergency helicopter transport.

Of course, with the M-CARE network of hospitals in cities like Royal Oak, Dearborn and Rochester, you don't always have to go to the U of M Medical Center. But isn't it good to know it's there whenever you need it? To find out more, ask your employer. Or call M-CARE at 747-8700.

Opinion

McAnally is our pick for mayor

Voters in Romulus next week will be asked to select a candidate for each of the elected city positions - mayor, clerk, treasurer and seven council seats. Below are our choices for these positions.

Vying for the mayor's seat are incumbent Beverly McAnally and Earl Champagne. We believe McAnally remains the best choice for the job.

McAnally has shown dedication to the city through her efforts. She has been instrumental in forming and continues to be active in a substance abuse task force in the city. She has worked diligently to bring about the realization of the Metro World Centre, now closer than ever to construction. McAnally has been a staunch supporter of acquiring quality housing for senior citizens.

McAnally maintains a firm stance when discussing proposed expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport, noty shirking her first responsibility - the needs of the residents of Romulus.

She is the clear choice for the mayor's post once again.

Linda Choate, who is running unopposed for the position of city clerk, has shown herself to be an effective, energetic official. The clerk's office operates smoothly with an open ear to the concerns of local residents.

James Napiorkowski, running unopposed for city treasurer, has put considerable energy and dedication into his first term of office. He has proven to be a very efficient treasurer.

In the race for city council, we offer our endorsement to the six incumbents seeking reelection - Noah Bergeron, Fred Junior Block, Randolph Gear, Ellis Pennington and William Wadsworth. Each has proven competent in his role, is familiar with current city concerns and projects and is qualified for another two-year term.

The city has witnessed a rebirth of development and internal improvements with the guidance of this group of councilmen, and they have earned the right to carry on with the their work.

Also vying for city council are David Atkins, George Carpenter, Brooker Edwards, Elvera Fischer, Russell Lambert and John Lewkowicz.

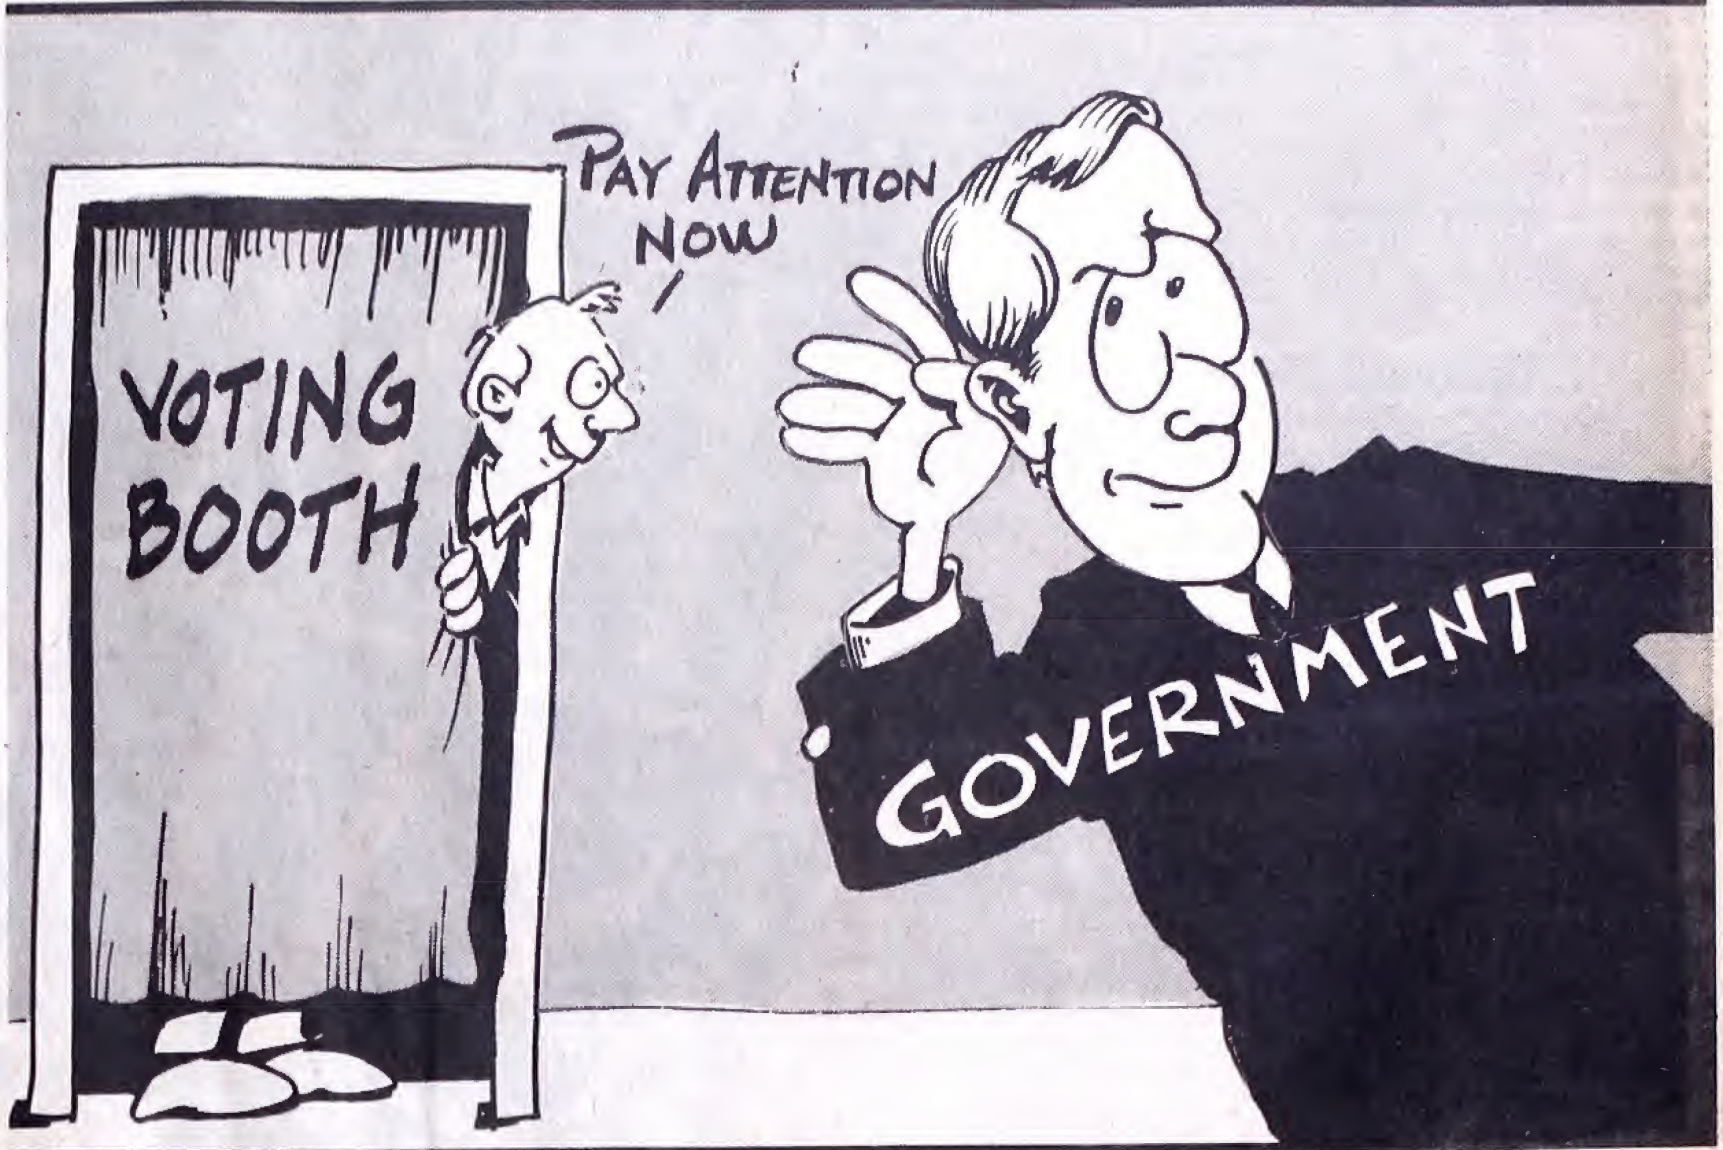

Our endorsement for the seventh council seat goes to Elvera Fischer. She is recently retired from 35 years of city service and understands the issues the residents and the community. As a long-time resident of the city, Fischer is likely to be sincere in her efforts for the community.

Reform takes more than vote

Last week, we urged voters to oppose both school finance proposals and vote no on both Proposal A and B Nov. 7. We continue to strongly oppose approval of either of these reform proposals, but we ask more of our local citizens.

We would urge that every concerned citizen, and every citizen should certainly be concerned, write to our local legislators and urge that an adequate school reform package be prepared for the approval of voters.

There is no question that school finance reform is necessary and needed. There is also no question that a great deal of political maneuvering and posturing is included in both Proposal A and B which will appear on the Nov. 7 ballot. Perhaps realizing the necessity of finance reform for our schools, legislators rationalized that something was better than nothing and agreed to "deal" with the fate of our children's educations.

LETTERS

Fighting experience

I am writing in regard to the article carried on the front page of the October 19, 1989 edition of the Wayne Eagle which was entitled "Council hopefuls fight experience" and, more specifically, to address the comments made by Mr. James Netter.

There are two very important areas in which I wish to set the record straight regarding the misinformation which he would have Wayne voters to believe. Mr. Netter's interpretation of the rezoning application which was submitted by Wolverine Human Services for the Calvary Baptist Church property is incorrect both in his description of the "boot camp" which was proposed for the property and in his interpretation of the present City Council's handling of the matter.

First of all, Wolverine Human Services applied for a rezoning in order to put a diagnostic center for adolescent boys into the former church building. His reference to the facility as a "boot camp" is not a fair or accurate definition of the proposed property use.

Furthermore, and of much more relevance at present, Mr. Netter's reference to our present City Council as victims of "incumbent's disease" is an even more unfair and distorted account of what transpired in the rezoning issue. He is attempting to use this issue to present himself as a hero to the residents of Wayne. Mr. Netter may not fairly accuse the City Council of being "all ready" to approve the zoning change. There is no way he could know what they were ready to do, which is why a vote is taken.

All of the proper and legal actions required in regard to this application were followed and, in fact, I can think of three particular ways in which the City Council showed precisely the opposite of any indifference to their position as elected officials. Each of these required time and effort above and beyond that which was required in order to process the application for rezoning. First, the Mayor and many Council members attended an informational meeting which was held at the Calvary Baptist Church prior to the public hearings. Second, the Mayor instructed that the boundaries for individual notification of the public hearing be extended to include a much larger area than that which is normally and legally required. Finally, several members of the City Council took the time to accept Wolverine Human Services' invitation to visit and inspect the other facilities which they operate. It is my opinion that all of these facts indicate quite the opposite of any indifference to their position as elected officials. To the contrary, it would seem to indicate a sensitivity to the people they represent. Few rezoning applications require the extra time and effort that our City Council expended in this instance.

With regard to Mr. Netter's complaint about having to go out and collect 1,700 signatures to support his opposition to the rezoning, it is my opinion that he is complaining about the very process which makes our country great. Try right to petition our government, whether local, state or federal, is a privilege and an opportunity which other countries do not enjoy. Rather than successfully presenting himself as a hero, it is my opinion that Mr. Netter has - by his own words - indicated a lack of understanding of what it means to responsibly hold public office. Elected officials do not only listen to the complaints and criticisms of the public. Elected officials are called upon to act within the guidelines of the laws and become familiar with the issues in order to make responsible and educated decisions, all the while maintaining a sensitivity to the expressed concerns and desires of the public. Our City Council followed all of these guidelines in the rezoning issue to which Mr. Netter refers and, if this a disease, then we should pray that it would become an epidemic.

Proposals better than status quo

Although I agree with much of the content of your October 26, 1989 editorial, which attempted to explain the two November school finance ballot proposals, I must take strong exception to your summary and recommendations. By suggesting that voters reject both proposals "A" and "B" and therefore "demand" the perfect solution to the school finance dilemma by our state legislators is totally unrealistic and flies in the face of common sense.

First, and foremost, local districts no longer have the luxury of obtaining yet another time delay in which to address this problem. The young people in school today need the tools and now to prepare for careers in the 21st Century. We can't afford to wait even one more semester. Furthermore, your suggestion that we can either expect or demand action by the legislature, now that these two options have been made available to Michigan voters, is wishful thinking at best and totally ignores the reality of the political process. You certainly must be aware of how difficult, how compromising and how long it has taken for any fiscal reform to reach this November 7 ballot.

Your comment that neither plan offers an "ideal" or even an "adequate solution" to school finance reform may be true. However, we must start somewhere because although we don't make the rules, we must play by them. If this "less than perfect" option is all that's available, we had better take it while we can. Although I genuinely believe Proposal "B" is better for our community because of its inherent 41 percent decrease in school operating millage, Proposal "A" surely beats the status quo. Because the success of the two proposals is so very critical to the future of education, I recommend a "YES" vote on both Proposals "A" and "B".

Sincerely,
Dennis O'Neil

Sweet secrets of south

Frankly, my dear, I think I know why old Rhett Butler didn't give a damn.

If that twit Scarlett O'Hara had listened to her mammy and learned to cook like other Georgia women, she'd have had Rhett crawling through downtown Atlanta on his knees to woo her. After a visit to this culinary cradle of civilization last week and a great deal of first-hand research, there is no doubt about the superiority of southern kitchens.

There were cinnamon rolls that had to be weighted down with pecans and sticky brown-sugar syrup to keep them from floating away, biscuits that smelled like heaven and needed to be slathered with butter and peach preserves to keep them on the plate, fried chicken even my grandmother couldn't do better and breakfasts that lasted all day.

The first-hand research included all these treats and more. There was a chocolate cake that had to be sent directly from the angels, baked by a chef who "just didn't have time for anything real special." There were desserts that would turn the heads of even the most jaded yuppie and bowls of cholesterol-laden treats that would have sent even the healthiest arteries into screams of protest.

Southern society has a century-old cure for the "yankee" problem of cholesterol, y'see. As my mama and my grandma often told me, "Honey, you get in there and wash those walls, put up those tomatoes and then get that ironin' done, and you won't have any problems at all with sleepin'." That philosophy is still adhered to in the south where a days work is guaranteed to cure stress, produce good muscle tone and clean out the arteries. These folks consider aerobics a pure waste of energy... "think of all the things a body could be a doin' with that energy."

The desserts they serve in Georgia are nearly all from recipes handed down for centuries or so. The reason they don't come up with new ones is pretty simple. You can't improve on perfection.

Miss Margaret's fudge pudding

2 sticks butter, melted
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
6 tablespoons cocoa
4 eggs
1 cup flour, sifted pinch of salt
1/4 cup pecans

Cream together the butter, sugar, vanilla and cocoa. Lightly beat the eggs and add to the sugar mixture. Sift together the flour and salt and add to sugar mixture. Blend in the nuts. Pour the batter into an ungreased 8 x 8-inch pan. Place this pan inside another larger pan, the bottom of which is covered with water. As it bakes, the top will form a crust, but the inside will remain pudding-like. Bake 45 minutes in a preheated 325 degree oven. Spoon into bowls and serve hot with vanilla ice cream.

Strudel steals the show

Chicken strudel only looks complicated to prepare, according to chef Greg Murphy, of the Plymouth-based Cafe Bon Homme restaurant. Murphy showed area residents how to master the culinary treat as part of a program offered in the adult-education program of the Romulus schools. ANP photos by Debbie Pountney

Chicken 'pockets' are deceiving and packed with flavor

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

Not quite a cross between chicken pot pie and a delicate pastry, chicken strudel is a perfect way to fool guests into thinking that their host slaved over dinner. But it's a harmless deception.

Chicken strudel is wrapped in phyllo dough (used for spinach pie and baklava), creating the image of a complicated preparation.

A group of area residents learned the secrets to this recipe during a special, one-session class offered in the Romulus Community Schools adult-education program last week. They were instructed by Chef Greg Murphy, of the Plymouth-based Cafe Bon Homme restaurant.

Murphy acquired his culinary skills at Schoolcraft College, in Livonia, and perfected his craft while working with a master chef from the renowned The Golden Mushroom restaurant, in Southfield.

In his current job, Murphy prepares chicken strudel regularly. It is not a fancy dish, he said, but is a light recipe.

"It's more of an everyday meal. It's not like steak," he explained.

During the two-hour lesson last week, Murphy guided his students through every step necessary for the dish.

The first step of preparation is to saute in butter onions, celery, carrots and mushrooms. The onions should be placed in the pan long before the other ingredients, Murphy said, because onions are fibrous and take the most time to cook. Celery should also be given extra time.

Next, "in goes the chicken." For the class, Murphy supplied 10 pounds of chicken, which was cut in small pieces. Adding flavor to the concoction were chicken and beef base, spicy dijon mustard, garlic, tarragon and white pepper.

Alternative ingredients are spinach, broccoli or asparagus, Murphy said. To spice up the chicken - which tends to be bland - the cook can add sherry, brandy or cognac. Or beef can be used, instead of chicken.

After adding flavor, Murphy said, it is important to make the mixture as thick as possible. This step is most easily done by combining corn starch with milk or water and stirring it into the chicken and vegetables. Do not forget to add liquid to the corn starch, Murphy warned. It prevents lumps.

Chef Murphy instructs those willing to try making chicken strudel - such as student Janice Louazz (above), of Romulus, to add onions and celery to the pot before other ingredients.

The mixture should be properly thickened in two minutes. Then, it must be thoroughly cooled. As a short cut, Murphy put the chicken in a long, flat pan and placed it in a freezer.

Next is the impressive part, working with the phyllo dough. The dough can be purchased frozen from most grocery stores.

Below are step-by-step instructions for wrapping the chicken mixture.

- Spread flat two sheets of the dough, with the narrow ends on the top and bottom. Be careful - they are fragile.
- With a pastry brush, spread melted butter over most of the dough surface, leaving a clear spot for the chicken mixture near opposite end of the sheets to the cook.

- Place approximately four ounces (approximately two heaping tablespoons) on dough near the opposite end to the cook. The chicken should have equal portions of dough on the left and right sides.

- Carefully pull remaining dough at opposite end of sheet toward the cook and over chicken. Cup with hands to seal gently.

- Roll dough from opposite end toward cook to cover chicken again.

- Gently fold left flap of dough over lump of chicken and cup with hands to seal.

- Again, roll dough at opposite end of sheet toward the cook and over chicken. Cup with hands.

- Fold over right flap of dough. Cup with hands.

- Roll any remaining dough over chicken for final time and cup with hands to seal.

This process may sound intimidating, but it becomes easier after practicing for a few times. The finished product slightly resembles an egg roll and is ready for the oven. The chicken will have 10 layers of dough on all sides.

Below is the actual recipe for the chicken strudel and some recommended dishes to accompany it. All recipes were supplied by Murphy.

Chicken strudel

2 8-ounce chicken breasts, diced
1 onion, diced
2 stalks of celery, diced
3 ounces mushrooms, diced
1 carrot, peeled and diced
2/3 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon tarragon
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 tablespoon chicken base
2 ounces corn starch mixed with
3 ounces water

Saute onions until half done. Add celery. Cook 2 minutes. Add carrots and mushrooms. Cook an additional 2 minutes. Add diced chicken, stirring mixture to prevent sticking. Add seasonings and cream. Bring mixture to boil and stir over heat until chicken is fully cooked. Adjust seasonings if necessary. Stir together corn starch and water. Add to chicken mixture and bring back to boil. Simmer for 2 minutes. Refrigerate thickened mixture until it is cold. Place 4 ounces of mixture on buttered phyllo dough. Roll dough, folding in on sides. Bake in 400-degree oven approximately 35 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Spinach salad lyonnaise

1 1/2 bags fresh spinach
12 strips bacon, cut into 1/2 inch pieces
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 leek, finely cut
1/8 cup salad oil
1/8 cup red wine vinegar
3 tablespoons sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons dijon mustard
2 tablespoons bacon drippings

Cook bacon in saute pan until rendered. Spoon bacon on paper towels to cool. Keep bacon fat.

Wash spinach and remove thick stems. Be sure to wash carefully, because spinach can be very sandy.

Combine remaining ingredients to make dressing and whip. Taste and adjust flavor with salt and pepper. Combine spinach and dressing. Toss. Place on chilled salad plates. Top with bacon.

Tomato saffron sauce

2 cups tomato juice
2 teaspoons red wine vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon saffron
1 tablespoon corn starch mixed with 2 tablespoons water

Mix juice, vinegar, sugar, white pepper, salt and saffron in a thick sauce pan. Bring mixture to a boil. Simmer for 5 minutes. Taste and adjust seasonings. Thicken with corn starch and water mixture. This is a good sauce to accompany the chicken strudel dish.

Lime mousse

3 large eggs
3 large egg yolks
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup fresh lime juice
1 tablespoon grated lime zest
7 tablespoons chilled unsalted butter cut in small pieces
3/4 cup whipping cream

Whisk eggs and yolks together in a heavy saucepan until foamy. Whisk in sugar and lime juice. Mix in zest. Stir over low heat until mixture thickens to a heavy custard consistency (approximately 8 minutes). Do not allow mixture to boil. Remove from heat and whisk in butter. Cook until mixture is very thick, approximately 1 hour. Whip heavy cream until soft peaks form. Fold into cold custard. Spoon mixture into serving glasses. Serve with fresh fruit.

Garden Patch grows with fine food

By FLORENCE MEEKS
ANP Staff Writer

After being open for only 14 months, The Garden Patch restaurant, in Wayne, is earning a reputation as a comfortable family-dining spot which offers a wide variety of selections.

Complete with a roomy, bright interior, the restaurant offers a traditional atmosphere of booths and a coffee counter.

Menu selections for dinner include spaghetti, meat loaf, chicken, corned beef with cabbage, ribs, steak, pizza and lobster. Customers may also choose from a long list of sandwiches and breakfast foods. Fresh fruit-pies, cream pies, ice cream and an occasional carrot cake top the dessert list.

Prices range from $3.75 to $10.95 for meals.

Members of the restaurant staff do not boast of a specialty, according to owner Bill Davis.

"We do a good job on everything," Davis said.

The restaurant is, however, the site of special prices. Senior citizens may eat from 3 to 9 p.m. seven days a week for $3.99. That price includes a beverage and dessert.

Breakfast specials range in price from $1.59 to $6.75. Popular is a selection containing steak, eggs and pancakes, Davis said.

Lunch specials, offered six days each week, range from $3.50 to $4.25.

For a change of pace, dinner specials begin at 12:20 p.m. Sundays.

Customers at The Garden Patch should expect a relaxed meal and large portions, Davis said.

"We'll treat them fair. No-body ever goes out hungry," he explained.

The restaurant, located on Michigan Avenue, is open from 6 a.m. until 11 p.m.

Romulus rally beats Belleville, 28-14

Jones passes for 2 touchdowns, 264 yards

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus and junior quarterback Chris Jones left their best for their last.

Jones fired two touchdown passes and piled up 264 yards on a 17-of-24 passing effort to lift the Eagles to a 28-14 victory over the Tigers of Belleville in their final appearance of the 1989 football campaign.

Trailing 7-0 and 14-6 in the first half, Romulus came from behind to tie the score at 14-all at the end of the first half, then scored one TD in each of the second half quarters to win their fourth game in nine starts this season.

Belleville's also posted a 4-5 mark for the year.

"It was a great way to end a season," said Romulus coach Dan Henry, who brought the curtains down on his first season at Romulus. "It's also great to go out a winner."

The Eagles were also 3-0 on the home turf, and that's the first time in the past two decades that Romulus has won all of its home games.

Jones, under pressure most of the evening from an untiring Belleville linebacker corps, connected on 17 of his 24 missiles for a career high 264 yards and two touchdowns. He teamed with split end Tim Kosikowski on five of those receptions for 100 yards and with Virgil Davis for seven catches for 101 yards.

Jones was indiscriminate with his tosses, also finding Larry Perkins open on two occasions. Perkins' two catches resulted in an additional 54 yards. Perkins, an outside linebacker also was a Undefeated Bay City John Glenn showed Dearborn Heights Robichaud why it is considered one of the best Class A teams in the state this year.

Bay City capitalized on Robichaud turnovers and struck for two touchdowns in the second quarter, going on to beat the Bulldogs and Coach Robert Yauck, 21-6, Friday in the season finale for Robichaud.

The victory, undefeated Bay City's ninth, sealed a playoff berth for Glenn for the second time in as many years. Robichaud finished the year with a 5-1 Suburban Athletic Conference and a 5-4 overall record.

"We had a tough schedule this year," said Yauck, who ended his 20th season as head coach at Robichaud. "The four teams we lost to had piled up a 30-6 won-lost ratio against their opponents - and three of those teams may be appearing in the post-season state playoffs."

What killed the Bulldogs were three misfired passes that Bay City used to set up touchdowns. The defense also had problems with senior halfback Brian Sturtz, who rushed for 100 yards and touchdowns of 11 and 16 yards.

Despite trailing 14-0 at the half, Robichaud came back and shook up the visitors when junior quarterback Tyrone Wheatley managed to drive his team 70 yards after the kickoff and scored on a 13-yard option play. It took 17 plays, but the Bulldogs were back in business 14-6.

In that touchdown series, Wheatley combined with Robert Ste-

Lake Orion ends Viking year

By TOM MOORADIAN

Undefeated Lake Orion, ranked as high as fourth in the Class A polls, broke open a close game with 27 points in the second half to stun Inkster 41-12 Friday afternoon.

The Vikings of Inkster, struggling all of the 1989 season, managed to hold the Greater Oakland Conference champs to two touchdowns in the first half and trailed only by eight (14-8) after the first two periods.

"I got to believe that the kids tired in the second half," said Inkster Coach Ron Gardner, who wound down his first year as head coach with a 1-8 record. "We only had about 25 players suited up for the game."

Quarterback Fred Stevens and Art Ashbury teamed up on a 41-yard pass-run play in the first quarter that put the Vikings on the scoreboard midway in the quarter. The Vikings got what proved to be their last TD of the season in the third quarter when linebacker Eric Austin intercepted a pass and ran it back 65 yards for the six-pointer.

Chiefs begin to 'soul search'

It's been a rough first year for Coach Greg Hammond and the Chiefs of New Boston Huron High.

After winning their first game at the expense of nonconference rival, Dearborn Heights Annapolis, the Chiefs dropped their next eight, and a disappointed Hammond wasn't too pleased at the way his club ended the year.

Huron was buried 54-0 by Pinckney, a non-league opponent, Friday in their season-ending game.

"With the exception of a couple of players, I wasn't happy with what I saw Friday," Hammond said. "We didn't do very many things right."

The exceptions, Hammond said, were the performances of fullback Pete Hill, who

"We executed well in that first half - the best I have seen this year," Gardner said. "It was the type of game that reflected progress. It's unfortunate we didn't play like this earlier in the season - we would have won a few more games, but the kids did their best."

The Timpf brothers - Eric and Adam - stole the show on the Orion side. Eric, a senior quarterback, combined with his brother on two touchdown passes to open the door for their ninth straight win of the season.

Eric also tossed a 21-yard TD pass to Dan Cooper and senior running back Jim Vackaro returned a kickoff 78 yards for another Lake Orion score.

Reflecting on his first year as coach, Gardner said that he believed his team could have done better "if we had the numbers."

"From quantity usually quality surfaces," Gardner added. "When you barely have enough (players) to field a team, it can hurt you in many ways. We have to find the manpower to compete and when we do, we will be a team to contend with," Gardner said.

rushed for 51 yards - all tough yards - in 15 carries, and the efforts of tailback Scott Lowry, who cashed in 14 rushes for 45 yards.

But four interceptions and a defense that appeared to be in the wrong place at the wrong times led to a nightmarish finale for the Chiefs.

Pinckney had an insurmountable 42-0 lead at intermission and could have made it even worse if they had chosen so. Huron's Geno Dionati, a junior defensive end, did all he could to turn the tide and earned praise for his performance.

"He's a tough little guy who played an outstanding game under the circumstances," Hammond said.

Hammond, who was drafted into the coaching role in August after former Huron Coach Tom Labeau abruptly resigned, said that the late start contributed, in part, to the horrendous season.

Can Tiger swimmers finish 2nd?

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville swimmers last week concluded their dual meet season with an impressive 97-69 victory over Wyandotte, and will join the seven other members of the Wolverine 'A' Conference on Friday to compete for the league championships.

Monroe will host the conference meet, which got underway Tuesday with the diving preliminaries. The preliminaries for the swimming events are scheduled for 4 p.m. today, while the finals for both diving and swimming will be staged 6 p.m. on Friday.

Coach Greg Cooper and his Tigers of Belleville will take a 3-3 dual meet record into the championships and hope to turn it into an overall second place finish.

"I don't think any of us will be able to touch undefeated Trenton," Cooper said, "so our goal is to finish second. I believe we can reach that goal if our girls put their minds to it."

The Tigers had back-to-back league meets last week. They dumped Dearborn Fordson, 101-69, last Tuesday before whipping the Bruins of Wyandotte the following night to lift their overall mark to .500.

Against Fordson, the Tigers swept eight of 11 first places, including both relays. To start it off, Cooper chose Kristin Curtis, Jennifer Snure, Shelene Reed and Jennifer Caldwell for the 200-medley relay and the foursome re-

Anne Gray

Belleville runner 3rd at regional

Anne Gray, Belleville High's sensational freshman distance runner, finished third at the Class A regional championships conducted Saturday and qualified for the state finals.

Gray finished behind Ann Arbor Pioneer's Bridget Mann, who posted the winning time of 18:20, and Tara Furst, also of Pioneer (19:20).

The 13-year-old Belleville runner was clocked in 19:47, and her achievement came in the wake of winning the Wolverine 'A' Conference title a week ago. She will represent the Tigers and Coach Sam Vicchy at the state finals on Saturday.

Pioneer, with 34 points, dominated regional 3.

Huron runners are 2nd in conference

By TOM MOORADIAN

Despite a 1-2 finish by New Boston Huron runners at the annual Huron Conference cross country championships, the Chiefs and Coach Jim Okler were forced to settle for second best again this year.

Huron nemesis, Grosse Ile, garnered 38 points to unseat Carlson, the defending champ, as the 1989 champions.

"We didn't run up to our expectations," said Okler, after the meet. "We had an opportunity to win this meet."

The Islanders used their depth to pile up 38 points, beating Huron, which had 46, by eight points. Trailing the top two league leaders were Airport (112), Monroe Catholic Central (127) and Flat Rock (150).

Huron, however, produced the individual league champ and runnerup thanks to the performances of Lindsay Wendel and Ann Welch. Wendel claimed the gold medal with a 20:42 effort, and she led teammate Welch across the finish line. Welch was clocked in 20:53. Both were named to the all-conference team.

The Islanders then claimed the third, fourth and fifth places to seal the league title.

Huron came back with an 11th-place runner in Annie Holland (22:02), and the two other Huron thinclads who counted in the scoring were Ann Dulecki, (20th - 22:59), and Laura Holland (21st - 23:14).

The Chiefs also finished fifth at the Class B regionals staged on Saturday in Riverview. Dearborn Divine Child, with 79 points, was the winner, followed by Milan (90), Grosse Ile (94), Dearborn (107) and Huron (125). The first two teams, plus the top 10 finishers excluding members of the qualifying teams, will compete for the state title on Saturday in Linden at the Tyrone Hills Golf Course.

Welch, who finished eighth with a 21:13, and Lindsay, a 17th-place finisher (22:22) will represent the Chiefs in the state finals.

busy player on defense. He had three sacks of the Belleville quarterback.

However, it was Belleville who took the initiative in the first half. The Tigers had leads of 7-0 and 14-6 before Romulus tied the game at 14-14 on a turnabout series for the Eagles.

On a fourth-and-21 situation, Jones ran an option that resulted in a lateral to Davis, who fired the ball at Kosikowski standing at the Belleville one. Kosikowski went up and wrestled the ball away from two Belleville defenders and flopped down on the Tiger one for the first down.

On the next play, Jones took the ball across the stripe for the TD and, with 1:20 left, the Eagles were within two-points of tying the score. It was left up to Davis, who sneaked over the goal line on another option, to make up the difference.

"We felt the momentum changed in our favor after that series," Henry noted.

Belleville helped in its own demise in the third period when the Tigers fumbled a punt and Romulus center Steve Huntington recovered at the Tiger 40-yard line. Eight plays later, Jones had his team at the Belleville nine where, on the eighth play of the series, he selected running back Eben Smith to finish the drive. He did, on an end-around sweep.

Nick Kristiansen then booted the extra point, lifting the Eagles into the lead for the first time in the game (21-14) with five minutes left.

The Eagles collected an insurance TD in the fourth quarter as Davis grabbed a 17-yard touchdown pass from Jones that climaxed a 60-yard drive.

Belleville Coach Sam Villa, who also rounded out his first year as interim coach, said he was disappointed in the loss, but gave Romulus credit for coming back.

"It's always disappointing to lose," he said, "but these kids have had to perform under some trying circumstances. Lesser athletes would have probably caved in a long time ago."

Because of finance problems in the Van Buren school district, athletes in that district have had to pay $250 this season to defray the costs of the athletic programs.

sponded in the winning time of 2:10.78.

Belleville won the 200-yard individual medley with Samantha Thompson (2:50.73), and the 50-yard freestyle with Snure (28.69). The Tigers also were winners in the diving event thanks to Kristin Lucas, who piled up the winning total of 199.15.

Curtis won the 100-yard butterfly (1:13.77), and Reed turned in the best time for the 100-yard freestyle (1:06.16). Belleville's Debbie Chatzka was first in the 100-yard backstroke (1:22.12), while Thompson, Rachel Jacks, Chatzka, and Carrie Harrison (4:47.86) was the winning Belleville combo for the 400-yard freestyle relay (4:47.86).

Snure, a sophomore, personally accounted for two of the seven first places against Wyandotte. She was the top performer for the 200 freestyle (2:11.32) and the 100-yard breaststroke (1:19.55). Jacks, Caldwell, Curtis and Reed cut a 2:15.24 in winning the medley relay while Thompson, Chatzka, Harrison and Snure finished first in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Lucas displayed her best diving form of the season on the boards as she amassed the winning total of 214.85 points.

Other Belleville winners included Reed, in the 100-yard butterfly (1:18.75); and Curtis, 100-yard backstroke (1:12.97).

wart on a crucial 17-yard pass play that kept the drive alive. Their bid for the two-point conversion fell short.

"I felt we played our best defensive game of the year," Yauck commented. "They (Bay City) won their conference title and are playoff-bound, so you're talking about an excellent team. If we had played this way some of the teams we lost to, we would have been 8-1 at this point."

Robichaud had available for this finale Sean Cooper, a fullback-middle linebacker who had been sidelined after being hit by a car earlier this year. Paul Brannon, an outside linebacker, also stood out against Bay City.

"I think what hurt us - no killed us - was those three interceptions - all in the second quarter when they put those two TDs on the scoreboard," Yauck added. "Aside from those turnovers, we played our best game."

Highland Park upsets Inkster cage title cart

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A strange thing happened to Inkster on the road to the Suburban Athletic Conference basketball title - they ran into a detour at Highland Park.

Coach Dwight Hotchkiss and his Vikings needed the victory over the Polar Bears in order to keep pace with league leader, Oak Park. The Vikings had beaten Oak Park a week ago and had their hands on a share of first place until upset-minded Highland Park pulled a 64-51 surprise over them.

And that upset came despite warnings from the Inkster coach that Highland Park is a "very capable team."

It was Inkster's inability to neutralize high-scoring Tracey Joyner that eventually led to their demise. Joyner sank 13 of 14 of her free throws and wound up with 29 points for the night to lead the assault on the then first-place Vikings.

"We're out of it," Hotchkiss said. "I can't see Oak Park losing any more games. They have it, now. We had the title in our hands and let it slip out."

With Joyner collecting 10 of her points, Highland Park jumped out to an 18-9 first period lead and never fell behind. The winners were up by 16 (35-19) at intermission and protected their cushion in the stretch.

"I tried just about everything to stop Joyner - in fact we used three people to guard her but we just couldn't stop her," Hotchkiss said.

Two Inkster players hit in double figures, Alexis Watson tossed in 10 points, all of them in the second half, and Tequan Abney also chipped in 10.

The Vikings also got some good news in the form of Tennessee transfer student Beatrice Scott, who scored 16 points to spark the Vikings to a 56-42 victory over the Panthers of River Rouge.

Tied at 10-all after the first period, Scott fired in six points in the second period that gave the Vikings a 26-17 halftime breather. Inkster went on to outscore their SAC rivals, 10-7 and 20-18 for the last two periods.

Scott, a 5-8 junior, will be an asset for the Vikings in the weeks ahead.

"She has outstanding potential," Hotchkiss said. "She's a fine athlete."

International victory
Essex plays role of 'perfect host' to Romulus

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Essex, Ontario played the role of 'perfect host' Friday during the annual meeting between that city's high school and visiting Romulus High girls' basketball team.

For the seventh straight year, the Eagles of Romulus came away with a victory. This time, with four Romulus cagers scoring in double figures, the Eagles won a lopsided 66-28 decision.

"This is the first time I have been involved in this international series," said Romulus Coach Tim Cullen, who is completing his first year as head coach, "but I can tell you that I was impressed by their hospitality and their program."

Next year, Romulus will return the hospitality.

Off to a slow start, the Eagles took a 14-4 first-period advantage and turned it into a 28-9 halftime lead. Although substituting freely throughout all of the game, Cullen saw his Eagles outscore their rivals 21-11 and 17-8 in the final two periods and they were never challenged in the second half.

Kelly Tessin's 18 points topped the evening's scorers. Teammates Sue Molenda and Lynette Cain added 15 and 11 points, respectively, while Carmita Brown added 10.

The victory boosted Romulus's record to 6-9 on the year. They're 1-4 in the South Central Conference, and the Eagles will resume SSC competition tonight at home to Ann Arbor Huron.

Voters to decide school-finance issue

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

On Tuesday, Nov. 7, voters in the state of Michigan will decide whether they want to give more money to schools.

They will have two choices, in the form of ballot proposals, to do so: Proposal A, which will increase the state sales tax from 4 to 4 1/2 cents, collects an additional $380 to $400 million new dollars for education; or Proposal B, which will increase the sales tax to 6 cents, resulting in an additional $280 million new dollars for the schools.

However, if Proposal B is approved, property owners across the state will see a reduction in their property taxes. State lawmakers say that if Proposal B is approved the average non-business, primarily home and farm, property tax would be decreased by 12.7 or 38 percent, while average business property taxes would be reduced by 7.7 mills or 23 percent. A mill represents $1 of property tax for each $1,000 of state equalized property value.

If both Proposal A and Proposal B are approved, the proposal with the greater number of "yes" votes will be enacted. The sales tax would become effective as of January 1, 1990.

Moreover, food and drugs would continue to be exempt from the sales tax. Additionally, residents with incomes below 150 percent of the official property level would not have to pay sales tax on electricity and heating fuel.

Most school boards and teachers' unions are supporting Proposal A; while local legislators, among them Senator William Faust (D-Westland), State Representatives Justine Barns (D-Westland), James Kosteva (D-Canton Township), William Keith (D-Garden City), Lynn Owen (D-Sumpter Township), and Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth) are backing Proposal B.

There are some strings attached to Proposal A:

- The proposal doesn't contain provisions to change the reliance on property tax for funding education;
- Although the proposal doesn't specify the way the proceeds of the sales tax increase will be distributed to local districts, it was the legislative intent that $285 million be distributed through a revised school aid formula; the remaining $115 will be used to fund "quality", that is, core curriculum, school accreditation provisions of the 1989 School Aid Act;
- The provisions to constitutional-

School finance ballot proposals

Exact language of the two ballot proposals which will appear before Michigan voters Nov. 7 follows.

■ PROPOSAL A—A proposal to increase the sales/use tax from 4 cents to 4 1/2 cents per dollar and constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools.

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

- 1) Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
 - a. 1/2 cent increase in sales/use tax;
 - b. Current statutory revenues sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes;
 - c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51 to 68 percent) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.
- 2) Distribute dedicated funds to school districts as provided by law.
- 3) Activate increased statutory penalty to deny 100 percent of state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.

Should this proposal be adopted? Yes or no.

■ PROPOSAL B—A proposal to increase the sales/use tax from 4 cents to 6 cents per dollar, reduce school property taxes, set permanent operating millage not subject to voter renewal and constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools.

The proposed constitutional amendment would:

- 1) Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
 - a. 2 cent increase in sales/use tax;
 - b. Current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes;
 - c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51 to 75 percent) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.
- 2) Reduce property taxes in most school districts. Replace school taxes with permanent statewide millage (9 mills on residential/farm; 14 mills on businesses) plus non-voted local millage not subject to voter rollback. Limit voter-approved increases to 4 mills.
- 3) Set per-pupil funding guarantees subject to change by law requiring 2/3 vote.
- 4) Activate increased statutory penalty to deny all non-guaranteed state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.

Should this proposal be adopted? Yes or no.

RE-ELECT BILL WADSWORTH ROMULUS CITY COUNCIL

Dear Romulus Resident:

In 1983, 85 and 87 when you elected me to the City Council, I vowed to vote fair on all issues placed before me, always keeping in mind the needs of the citizens first. I believe I have.

During the 11 years I worked in Romulus as a Police Officer, I feel I know and understand the problems, needs and wants of all the citizens, from the youngest to the seniors.

My wife Virginia and I have lived in Romulus for 22 years. Our sons attend school in Romulus and we think it is a fine community to raise a family.

During my first three terms we saw many positive things happen, the opening of a new Post Office, paving of new roads, new outdoor skating rinks for our children, Wick Road Development and the start and completion of Cable T.V. I fought railroad expansion by CXS and won. Airport, commercial, industrial developments are important, but we must not sacrifice the quality of life for our residents. Many things are still undone and I ask for your support for a fourth term.

Romulus Resident for 22 years
Married 22 years to wife Virginia

Beverly J. McAnally, 62, is a widow and has three children. She has lived in Romulus for 25 years.

She is a graduate of Southeast High School and she attended Park College, University of Kansas City and Kansas City Art Institute.

She is currently the mayor of Romulus, having been elected in 1983.

Prior to being elected mayor, she was elected to city council and served as treasurer.

Earl Norman Champagne, 34, is single. He is a 34-year resident of Romulus.

He is a 1973 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

He is a crew leader of building maintenance for the city of Romulus.

He has never campaigned for political office.

Choate is married and has two children. She has lived in Romulus for 27 years.

She is a 1958 graduate of Taylor Center High School.

She was first elected city clerk in 1983.

Napiorkowski, 38, is married and has two children. He has lived in Romulus 14 years.

He is a 1969 graduate of John F. Kennedy High School and has attended Eastern Michigan University, Wayne County Community College and Henry Ford Community College.

Formerly employed by General Motors, he has been treasurer to the city of Romulus since 1987.

Atkins, 53, is married and has four children.

He is a graduate of Romulus high school and the U.S. Army Leadership School. He is the publisher of The Romulus News.

This is the first time he has campaigned for political office.

Bergeron, 38, is married and has three children. He is a lifetime resident of Romulus.

He is a 1969 graduate of Romulus Senior High School and a trade school graduate. He is an insurance salesman with Individual Financial Planning.

He has been a city councilmember since 1981, having been elected four times. He has also served on the housing commission.

Carpenter, 57, is married and has six children. He has lived in Romulus all his life.

He is a 1950 graduate of Romulus high school, and is employed part time as a handyman with Davis Auto Body. He was formerly employed in the department of public works in Romulus.

Why did you decide to seek office?

Because I could see the missed opportunities for the community to prosper. I believed I could bring prominence, and opportunity for employment to our city by utilizing our proximity to the airports as a selling point. I thought I could do more than was being done for the people.

The time has come for new blood and fresh ideas. A time for someone with a progressive yet conservative style. Someone who is not a career politician. I think it's time to put someone in office that has the best interests of the citizens of Romulus, in office, and not someone who is out for personal gain. Someone who is willing to deal with situations before they become problems.

I became a candidate for the office of city clerk several years ago because I believed I had something to offer the community.

I am seeking reelection so that I may continue with some of my long range plans that will allow the treasurer's office to provide additional services, and to be more efficient with the services that are already provided.

I don't think they are accomplishing as much as could be accomplished. They are not taking the initiative to get things done.

I was born, raised and educated in Romulus, therefore I'm familiar with the needs of our community. I fully believe that no one can fulfill the promise of one's community unless they become involved. My involvement has not only been on city council, where I have served for eight years, but also in civic, religious and business organizations.

I can make the difference between a good and a great city. In 1968 I became a chairman of Romulus High Band Boosters we challenged the school board to get new band uniforms which they denied as no fund. Fast thinking I asked if we raise half the money could the school board furnish the balance the uniforms were ordered in 6 weeks and that started the school to look better.

What do you see as the major issues in this campaign?

My major issue will be to expand our attack on the drug trafficking and the education/prevention effort.

We must continue to be vigilant against unwarranted incursion of the airport into the community.

Having a balanced budget. Compliance with Safe Drinking Water Act P.A. 399. Explore room tax on hotels. Rid the city of cronyism. Honesty and integrity of elected and appointed officials. The use of ingenuity to deal with legal matters rather than throwing good money after bad such as the 1.1 million tax dollars already spent for lawyers.

The role of city clerk is not always one of issues and opinions. The office is one that renders a service to the community, the administration and to the council as the official record keeper. It is the strength behind the actions of council and it keeps the flow of government working smoothly.

No major issues for the treasurer's office at this time.

Raping of the land by the airport. I think we need a much larger police department.

I think we need more EMT personnel through the fire department. We need more paramedics.

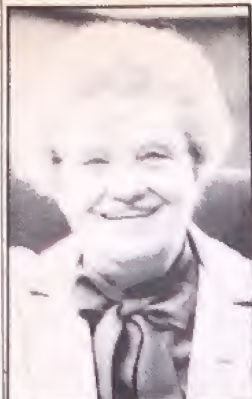

The millage should continue to be decreased.

The water and sewage costs should be held or lowered.

Although no major issues have come out of the campaign I feel that there is a challenge to maintain that fine line between the commercial-industrial growth in our community and the need to provide quality housing and a stable home life for our citizens.

Working as a team, doing for the whole city and working with surrounding communities to keep the dump away from our city boundaries, work with the airport to make any expansion benefit all of our citizens, especially the people whom must be moved.

Edwards, 63, is married and has two children. He is a 36-year resident of Romulus.

He is a 1948 graduate of Chocoma County High School and attended one year of college. He is a retired utility man for Ford Motor Co.

He was elected to city council in 1970 and served until 1973.

Fischer, 70, is a 43-year resident of Romulus.

She is a 1937 high school graduate and is retired from the Romulus water and sewer department.

She was also a candidate for city clerk in 1953.

Pennington, 62, is married and has three children. He is a 37-year resident of Romulus.

He graduated from high school in 1941 and is a retired set-up man for Kelsey-Hayes in Romulus.

He was a township road commissioner from 1966 until 1978, a township trustee from 1978 to 1980, a city councilman from 1980 until 1983, a member of the city planning commission in 1983.

Raspberry, 68, is the father of five children, and is a widower. He has lived in Romulus 46 years.

He is a graduate of Industrial High School, and is a retired union representative and quality control worker for the Ford Motor Co.

He was appointed as a constable in 1955 and has served on the city council.

Wadsworth, 45, is married and has been a resident of Romulus for 22 years. He has three children.

He is a graduate of Henry Ford Community College with an associate's degree in criminal justice.

He is employed with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department working at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

He was elected to Romulus city council in 1983, 1985 and 1987.

I am not satisfied with the decisions being made by governing bodies without the concern of their citizen who pay the bills.

I am not satisfied with the great increase in water and sewer rates without justification during these inflationary times.

I am against increasing taxes for the citizens of Romulus without increasing public service.

After 35 years of service as an employee of the city, I retired in April 1989, rather than sit back and watch the world go by, I felt it my duty to continue to serve my community. I now have the time and can concentrate my efforts in helping to make this a model community, and a good place to live and raise a family.

To continue the services I have provided to the citizens of Romulus city for the years I have been a public servant.

To have voice in the Democratic processes, help to plan and develop our chosen city. Help to get the most out of tax dollars. Seek developers of housing, industry and commercial business. Voice for senior and handicap and the needed low income.

To protect the interest of the citizens of Romulus and to see that their tax dollars are spent correctly. I like living in Romulus and I want to make it the best city possible.

Water and sewer rates - I feel that the decision was made without any consideration being given to the citizen of Romulus.

Weeds - I feel if the ordinance applies to certain citizens it should apply to all throughout the city.

Expansion of airport - Great effort and care must be taken to see that the airport becomes the good and cooperative neighbor that they should be. The airport authority should shoulder their fair share of all utility services used and at the same rates paid by the homeowners and taxpayers.

Getting all streets in Romulus paved. Drainage is a big problem in Romulus. We must have drainage for the city to grow but drainage assessments, the bulk of the drainage assessments must be paid by the development companies, and must not be passed on to the small homeowners that do not need the drain to begin with.

More and better housing, seek out industry, seek more commercial grocery, clothing, etc., recreation, improved roads, encourage more citizen involvement.

The issues would be those that most communities are concerned with; taxes, city services, law enforcement, fire protection, Airport and industry growth without destroying the serenity of the community.

Know your rights as a voter

Election officials always hope for a large turnout at the polls. The two school proposals are expected to help make their wishes come true.

"We are expecting a lot of people because there is a lot of interest in the school proposals," said Wayne City Clerk Norma Collop.

But if residents didn't register by Oct. 10, they might as well stay home because they won't be allowed to vote. Voters must also be a United States citizen and more than 18 years old by Nov. 7 in order to cast ballots.

If an individual moved to a new community and wasn't able to register, they may vote in their old precinct.

Voters are also allowed to send in an absentee ballot if they meet one of the following requirements:

- If he or she expects to be absent from the community in which they are registered for the entire time the polls are open on election day.

- If he or she is physically unable to attend the polls without the assistance of another.

- If he or she cannot attend the polls because of tenets of their religion.

- If he or she have been appointed an election precinct inspector in a precinct other than the precinct where they reside.

- If he or she is at least 60 years old.

- If he or she cannot attend the polls because they are confined to jail awaiting arraignment or trial.

Deadlines for submissions of absentee ballots may be obtained from your city clerk. These votes are counted just as those cast on election day at the polls.

An individual's right to vote is sacred, and any attempt to restrict that right should be directed to the city clerk immediately.

Proposals

ly specify the revenues for the School Aid Fund will establish a minimum level of funding for K through 12 public education. Lawmakers say that this will mean that school funding would be somewhat protected from the ups-and-downs of the economy.

Proposal B is the more complex of the two proposals, but it does have a reduction in property taxes attached to its provisions.

Here are some of the basic provisions of Proposal B, according to state lawmakers:

- Increase the sales and use tax rate from 4 percent to 6 percent, and earmark the additional 2 percent for funding of K through 12 education;

- Establish a state property tax of 9 mills on nonbusiness property and 14 mills on business property for the purpose of school funding;

- Provide for a local foundation millage of at least 8 mills for most school districts;

- Provide local school districts with the option of levying four additional mills, if approved by voters. Such millage requests would be limited to two per year;

- Constitutionally dedicate existing School Aid Fund Revenues, all net lottery revenues and interests, the net proceeds from the state property tax and the additional sales tax to the newly established State Account for Education, replacing the current State School Aid Fund;

- Guarantee a 10-percent increase in 1990-91 for specific categoricals for districts (transportation, vocational education and intermediate school district);

- Provide that the new constitutional funding requirements for schools can be changed by a law requiring a 2/3 vote of each house of the legislature;

- And require the state board of education to submit a report every five years to the legislature with recommendations for improving school performance.

Proposal B also would shelf the current "Headlee" provision that requires school districts to lower taxes when total assessed property value increase faster than inflation.

Opponents of Proposal B say, if approved, schools would be taken out of the hands of local residents and be placed in the hands of the legislators. They also argue that, because property values seem to increase over the years, the local and state governments would "recapture" taxes as the property values went up. One other point opponents stress is that property taxes can be deducted from federal returns, while state sales taxes can't be deducted.

Over the past decade, lawmakers have been urged to tackle the way schools are financed in the state because of the inequities in the present system. Some of the richer school districts have available to them more than $7,000 per student; while the poorer struggle on less than $2,500 per student.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. on Tuesday and close at 8 p.m.

Exercising your right

Local citizens should be aware when voting next week of the responsibilities of the city or township clerk's office.

All polls must be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. They cannot open or close earlier or later, according to state and federal laws.

When voting, registered voters are not required to bring any materials. They will be asked to complete a voting application, which poll workers use to verify the registration.

Joann Tadrack, a former deputy clerk in Van Buren Township, who is currently helping with election work in Canton Township, said voters will then receive verification, which she called a "ticket to admission."

Voters who wish to use absentee ballots may obtain them until 2 p.m. Saturday from the local clerk's office. Those who obtain the ballots in person must vote in their clerk's office. Those who receive the ballots by mail must have their ballots returned to the local clerk before 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Polling places are also required by state law to be accessible to handicapped residents.

Tadrack and other election workers are often frustrated by local elections, because voter turnout tends to be minimal when a presidential race is not on the ballot.

"We sometimes feel like we're having a party and no one shows up," one election worker explained.
